Mission & Philosophy

Mission

Our Bible College has focused its efforts on the mission of equipping the leaders of our beloved district, whether they are pastors, ministers, deacons, and/or faithful members of our congregations. The great commission given by our Lord Jesus Christ in Mark 16:15 "And he said unto them, go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature" demands of the church an adequate and profound preparation of the sacred scriptures. It is with this commission in mind that the West Texas District Bible College has taken on the task of preparing dynamic classes and materials that respond to the challenges that the church is facing in our days. In our courses, each student can grow in their theological knowledge and will discover new tools that will help them search in a broader way, the holy scriptures, so that they can fulfill in a more effective way the call that God has given them.

Philosophy

Engaging Students with Profound Experiences

At IABC West Texas District, we respect our students and understand that each of them has individual wants and needs. We believe that learning can only be fostered from a feeling of mutual respect, guidance, and direction, and we do our very best to maintain those values in everything we do. Our unique approach supplies our students with the proper support system that will help lead them down the path to success.

Core Commitment

Purpose And Values

1. We are committed to our Lord Jesus Christ and his teachings, which are found in the Gospel that he himself preached.
2. We believe that the Bible is the inerrant word of God, and that it is divinely inspired.
3. We believe in the Oneness of God, and that outside of Him there are no other gods.
4. We believe that God should be loved with all heart, soul, mind, and strength, while pursuing excellence in spiritual, academic, athletic, and extracurricular activities, always doing everything for the glory of God.
5. We profess that the Bible is the law given by God to men and that no other law or rule is above what God has established in His sacred scriptures.
6. We profess and practice baptism in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ.
7. We teach our students to read, study, believe, and preach God's word.
8. We believe in holiness, and that without it, no one will see the Lord.
9. We empower students to read, understand, and trust the Bible, and to be firmly grounded in the truth that we find on it.
10. We teach students to think critically, speak and write clearly and effectively, use technology effectively, develop interpersonal skills, and pursue personal and professional ethics through biblical literacy and integration.
11. We provide opportunities for students to serve and promote a culture of lifelong commitment to servant-leadership.

Brief History

From its beginning, The Apostolic Assembly has had the need to train its ministers and leaders. During the first convention in 1925, which was held in San Bernardino, California, it was immediately noticeable to our founders that ample time needed to be giving to the study of different issues. This practice was maintained for many conventions, as these respective acts demonstrate. President Antonio C. Nava and Benjamin Cantu were burdened to provide some type of formal education to their pastors and ministers. Pastors Leonardo Sepulveda, Ernesto Cantu, and others-initiated bible college projects, but these were economically limited.

In 1966, under the direction of pastor Eleazar Rodriguez, the National Apostolic Bible College was founded in Hayward, California. There he works with much success for many years. Many of his graduates served faithfully as pastors. Others continue to serve in different functions as teachers, leaders, or bishops. In 1978, the NABC was moved to San Jose, California. Where its rector was bishop Daniel Jauhalla. The National Apostolic Bible College was then moved to facilities of the Apostolic Assembly in Ontario, California. There, its rector was bishop Richard Almaraz, the Secretary of Christian Education at the time.

Bishop Samuel Valverde, the Secretary of Christian Education from 1990 to 1998, directed the NABC during his service, and implemented an experimental program called "Apostolic Institute of Ministries. A specific contribution of this period was the realization of different intensive courses for pastors of all districts. By the end of 1980s, different districts began to realize educational programs for their pastors to address the need to better equip ministers and leaders.

From 1998 to 2006, bishop Luciano Montes, who served these years as Secretary of Christian Education, prompted the formation of a Bible College in every district, under the authority of the NABC, with the aid of bishop Marcos Zacarias. This was another very important step to take biblical preparation to the whole nation. In the beginning of 2007, Secretary of Christian Education, bishop Ismael Martin del Campo traced out the following goals:

- A) To recognize the international outreach of the college, the name was changed from National Apostolic Bible College to "INTERNATIONAL APOSTOLIC BIBLE COLLEGE" (IABC).
- B) The goal was established to have 40 manuals for the complete Bachelor's in Theology program to be written by apostolic teachers and pastors.
- C) Steps were taken so that the IABC graduates could continue in post-graduate studies at fully accredited institutes. This is now a present reality through the accord signed with some of these seminaries.
